J., who claims an indemnity of $25,000 from the overnment of France for Hiegal Imprisonment. Centanni asserts that he was arrested in Marseilles on a charge of murder committed in Naples. It was a case of mistaken identity, which fact was re-vealed on the prisoner's offer to return to Italy voluntarily. The contracts involve about $200,000 per year altogether, and the bidders will have the option of five or ten year contract terms. The present contractor is the New-York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company. The performance of the new contract will begin November 1. So far the authorities have not been advised of any opposition to the present contractor's bids, though they limited that there will be some bids against that company's when the time for filing expires. The idea of a cheap cab service was started by the Pennsylvania Rallroad, and met with such large patronage that the officials of the New-York Central at once followed the example. For years the noisy and incersant hawking of cabmen has greeted every one on leaving the station. These cabmen are not only vociferous; they even grab hold of and pull passengers around in their wild endeavor to get a "fare." The new system makes an end of this nuisance, and it is possible for a passenger to pass our of the station without running a gantlet of persistent and hoarse-volced drivers.

GERMAN IN THE SCHOOLS.

PROTESTS ON THE STRENGTH OF UNFOUNDED RE-PORTS THAT THE SCHOOL BOARD WOULD ABOLISH IT.

The plan of the Board of Education, which was reported to be to abolish the study of the Ger-man language in the city schools, meets considerable opposition. Controller Fitch told Mayor Strong yesterday that a great many of his friends and neighbors were against the change, and that a committee of respected citizens had called on the Controller to ask him to take part in opposing the Board of Education in this matter.

Mayor Strong replied that he had sent a letter

Board of Education in this matter.

Mayor Strong replied that he had sent a letter to the Board asking a poetponement of action until public hearings can be held, and those opposed to abolishing German can have an opportunity to state their objections.

It was said yesterday that those who were protesting against the abolishment of German from the public schools were needlessly alarmed. It appeared that the measure that started the rumor was an amendment introduced at the last meeting of the Board of Education, which provided that instruction in French and German, the only forcepting night schools, should be begun only when one-half the parents or guardians requesting the same should be of other nativity. The change was recommended by the Committee on Instruction, and yesterday.

"The city now spends $2,000 to further the study of the two forcign languages, and, as a business man, I think the results should be of greater value. In fact, the study of German and of French mas heretofore been almost farcical, Only a handful of scholars not of German birth have taken up the German language, and those did not study it seriously, because they knew the lack of proficiency in the language did not prove a harrier to promotion. Principals whose reputation depended upon the number of pupils they graduated robbed upon the number of pupils they graduated robbed upon the man a delegation of the German teachers to receive their payers and

I have had a delegation of the German teachers down at my office to receive their advice, and have their approval of the new amendment. Commissioner Mack, who is one of the prominent Germans of the city, president of the Harmonie Club, has of the city, president of the scheme as proposed. The new course of study will allow of German PRACTISING DENTISTRY UNLAWFULLY. Joseph Diaz was convicted yesterday in Special Sessions and fined $150 for practising dentistry un-lawfully. The evidence showed that Diaz was em-ployed by the Boston Dental Parlors, No. 44 East Fourteenth-st., of which a Dr. Tarr is proprietor and Ormsby Mitchell manager. The latter admitted that the concern employed unregistered men as "as-sistants." The action was prosecuted by the State Dental Society on the complaint of George W. Smith, who, in June last, took his daughter to the place on account of its advertisement guaranteeing work for ten years at cheap rates. Diaz filled two of the girl's teeth, which, she testified, are still causing her suffering. Three attempts to crown another tooth caused her great pain, and finally the tooth had to be extracted.

FIRE INSURANCE RATES REDUCED. Some important reductions in fire insurance rates have been made by the Fire Underwriters' Tariff Association. On about two hundred non-fireproof apartment-houses in New-York and about fifteeen more in Brooklyn the rate has been reduced 20 per cent. S. A. Reed, the manager of the tariff association, said the reduction was made on ac-count of the "good record of the buildings." The rates on a number of charitable institutions are to be reduced. Manager Reed is now considering the schedule. The institutions affected are of several classes, including the fireproof, or first-class, structures, known as "slow-burners," buildings eracted before the passage of the present building laws.
